

ANNUAL MEETING OF ASSOCIATED PRESS IS HELD

Melville E. Stone Reviews Work of the Peace Conference

NEW YORK, April 22.—Development of inter-communication promises a chance that the league of nations may accomplish its object of insuring world peace, Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, recently returned from the peace conference, told the members of the news association at their annual meeting and luncheon here today.

Mr. Stone doubted if anybody knew whether the league project would succeed, but it is believed the representatives of the Associated Press had addressed themselves to the formation of an organization, intended if possible to prevent a recurrence of war, which he said had reached a point thru the advance of science, where a future conflict would well-nigh mean human annihilation. By the modern processes of inter-communication, however, the nations were inevitably brought closer together, he said, extending man's vision and giving "a little promise" that the failure of the congress of Vienna 160 years ago might be followed "by something like success."

It was a mistake, Mr. Stone said, to imagine that there had been an unpleasant or angry situation between the peace envoys of the Associated Press. Despite the German hopes of differences among the conquerors he added, they had agreed as to principle.

Describing a visit to the devastated regions of France, Mr. Stone declared it has been "torn by the most malignant and outrageous savagery the world has ever known." Talking about its rehabilitation, he asserted, extension of long time credits by American manufacturers was essential.

South American Service.

In keeping with the Pan-American spirit of the meeting, inspired by the recent addition of twenty five South American newspapers to the Associated Press membership, Mr. Stone stated that this extension of the service gave assurance of the amity of the western hemisphere. In like manner, in earlier days, he said, the organization had been a material factor in cementing the relations of the northern and southern sections of the United States.

Mr. Stone spoke of the peace conference leaders, many of whom he said, it had been his privilege to meet. Of Clemenceau, whom he had known for forty years, he said:

"When I went over there first in June, I went to see him one day, and said 'well, you speak English as well as you did forty years ago. He said 'I don't speak English, I speak American.'"

Referring to the peace conference and to affairs in Europe, Mr. Stone said:

"It is a mistake to imagine that there has been on the part of the five great powers represented at the conference an angry or an unpleasant situation. I think I may say because I have known well those who have participated in it—that they have brought to this work a sincere, earnest desire to solve a great problem."

Offense of Germans.

They feel that after all the worst offense of the Germans was not the killing of something like seven million fine young men of Europe and America, including those of Germany and Austria itself, nor the wanton murder by airplane and submarine. The worst offense of the Germans was in creating a world in which it is almost impossible for the living to survive.

"And that being the case the conferees had to address themselves not to any solace or comfort for the dead for whom they could do nothing, but some sort of an organization, if possible that should give some guarantee that in the future there would be no recurrence of this terrible catastrophe, because they knew that by the process of war, by its scientific and mechanical development war had now reached the point where any future conflict might well mean human annihilation."

"The Germans hoped that the Associated Powers would differ. It was the dream of the Germans that they could not agree. In principle they have agreed. In practice they have agreed. In 'We are as one in all this business.'"

"Now I don't know whether a league of nations will work or not. I doubt if anybody knows."

"One hundred years ago almost to a month, one hundred years ago in June, five sovereigns of Europe sought to create a league of nations. It was called the Holy Alliance. They met and adopted a treaty in the city of Vienna and after three years of struggle over the problem it failed."

"There is one thing that in this hour gives a little promise that their failure may be succeeded by something like success and that is inter-communication. There was a day when the limit of a man's vision was ten or twelve miles. Today by the processes of inter-communication of one sort and another the world is necessarily brought together and the very introduction of The Associated Press service into South America, the very alliance that is there, gives the very best assurance in my judgment of the amity of the whole western hemisphere.

Proud of Associated Press.

"I am very proud of The Associated Press and one of the things that seems to me of enormous value is this. In 1893 there were five or six so-called Associated Press Organizations in the United States, all working with their own kind and arm's length with each other. We are at it. The first principle that we adopted was that there should be no alliance with local organizations; that it should be a national cooperative association in which there should be members individually representing newspapers."

"We, by that act united this country as it had never been united by any other process. The north and south became one and we went into the Spanish war thirty-two years after the close of the sectional struggle as a compact nation having one heart and one soul. And I believed that the activities of this organization in a large measure brought to the country the spirit of 1917, which made it possible for us to go into this war with our whole soul."

Refers to France.

"Now one word as to France. France is riven and torn, not by war but by the most malignant and outrageous savagery the world has ever known."

"I have in my possession the report of the German commission which in 1916 was sent to the occupied territory of France. The commission took industry by industry and outlined, after a careful survey, what the destruction had been and would be by saying: 'If they ever want to restore these it will take them two or three years to do it and then they have got to come, whether they like it or not, to Germany to buy the machinery.'"

"Now that I have been thru that country I have not the eloquence to give you the impression it made on my soul as I rode along the road between the Belau woods and Rheims where the fields were dotted with little pine crosses and on them a phrase 'soldier of France' with no identification mark but a 'soldier of France' who had given his life."

"I am not going into this any further but I am going to make one suggestion. I have read a good deal of criticism in the United States over the action of France in declining to import American machinery and certain other products. They cannot do it now. It would ruin their exchanges. The cost of living would go up so high that they could not stand it. The only hope, the only solution for the condition of France, lies in long-time credit by American manufacturers."

DROPS FLOWERS ON LINCOLN'S TOMB.

Springfield, Ill., April 22.—Aviators from Chanute field, Rantoul, Ill., paid their respects to the memory of Abraham Lincoln by dropping flowers on his tomb in Oak Ridge cemetery here today. Two airplanes were here for the purpose of scattering the flowers in the aviation branch of the service. One of the machines was damaged in making a landing but neither of the occupants was injured. It is the intention of the state to add this branch of the service to the Illinois national guard, as soon as instructions are received from the war department at Washington.

ARMY OFFICER PASSES NORTHLESS CHECKS.

Chicago, April 22.—Failure of a man in an army officer's uniform to salute the flag as a Victory loan parade passed today resulted in the arrest of a man who said he was Lieut. L. H. Prescott. He was taken to the federal building where it was said he admitted having passed a number of worthless checks written against a Detroit banking house.

PROBE OF HIGH PRICES WILL BE HELD IN CAPITAL

Committee Finishes Work of Investigation in Chicago

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 22.—Further hearings of the joint legislative committee, named to investigate the high prices of cement and building materials, will be held in Springfield before a report is prepared, according to Senator John A. Daley, chairman of the committee, who said tonight the first meeting might be held here tomorrow.

It was understood that the committee had completed its work in Chicago last week. Senator Harold Kessinger of Aurora, a member of the committee, was known tonight to be drafting a bill to permit the state to use patented material for road building, prohibited by statute. A bill to repeal the prohibition against employment of patented road material is on third reading in the house, sponsored by Representative Hicks. The Kessinger measure is intended to enlarge on the provisions of the Hicks bill.

Preparation of the Kessinger bill is taken to mean that the committee has in mind a recommendation that patented materials be submitted for straight cement building. The other alternative is manufacture of cement by the state.

Zion City Investigation.

A preliminary meeting of the joint committee to investigate Zion City and Wilbur Glenn Voliva, was held at a hotel tonight. All the members were present except Senator Terrell, who was said to be ill. The committee did not name a chairman, although it was understood Senator Bailey of Danville, would be the choice. Members of the committee, who declined to be quoted, said the meeting was for the purpose of determining the scope of the inquiry and learning what the powers of the investigating body are. No date for future meetings was set. Intimations have been handed about that the committee members, at least some of them, lack enthusiasm.

Senate and house revenue committees which met today in joint session to consider the administration bill abolishing the state board of equalization and creating in its stead a tax commission adjourned without progress.

It was decided to hold a public hearing on the measure before the revenue committees meeting jointly, probably Tuesday of next week.

The tax commission bill, introduced in the senate by Senator Jewell and in the house by Representative Young is the big controversial piece of legislation at this session. Strong opposition to its passage is expected when the issues are down.

Until now, members of the board of equalization, it is said, have been quietly fighting the Jewell-Young bill using their political friends and writing letters. At the joint session these men will be given an opportunity to appear to voice open hostility, administration leaders say.

New Tax Commission.

The tax commission bill would provide for the appointment by the governor of three commissioners at $6,000 a year each whose business it would be to equalize all assessments. They would sit continuously at Springfield. Objection of Governor Lowden to the equalization board is that its members are said to be politicians and not tax experts.

Representative Thon's bill proposing the maintenance of laboratories for research work into the cause, cure and prevention of mental diseases was favorably reported out by the house committee on efficiency and economy today.

A bill introduced today by Representative Holiday amending the motor vehicles law makes more stringent penalties for the use of a motor vehicle or any connection knowingly with such an offense.

FIRE AT PONTIAC REFORMATORY.

Bloomington, Ill., April 22.—Fire which started in the third floor of the chair shop at the Illinois reformatory, at Pontiac late this afternoon, caused damage estimated at $100,000. Washington, April 22.—Returns thus far received from the strike vote now being taken among members of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, were declared tonight by F. H. McDowell, member of the union's national grievance committee, to indicate that not less than 90 to 95 per cent of the membership will vote to strike to enforce the organization's demand for recognition of the union and the right to collective bargaining.

Germans Receive Remittance or New Orders from Funds Allowed to Central Europe

BERLIN, Monday, April 21.—By The Associated Press.—The German cabinet in a special session this morning after considering the second telegram from Georges Clemenceau the French premier, president of the peace conference in Paris, correcting the false impression created by his first note decided the peace delegation originally appointed could go to Versailles at the end of the present week. It was determined that the date of April 25, first fixed for the arrival of the German representatives at Versailles could not be adhered to because of the confusion over the arrangements.

Premier Clemenceau's second telegram reached the foreign office last evening, but was not considered officially until this morning. The French premier said his original notification regarding the German representatives had been misinterpreted and misinterpreted by Germany. He declared there was no intention on the part of the entente to deny the Germans the right of negotiation or discussion.

With the assurance the cabinet immediately determined to revoke its decision to send Dr. Haniel von Haimhausen, with a pair of subordinates in his role of high class messenger to Paris, and reverted to its intention of sending six delegates to the Versailles congress, headed by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the foreign minister. Dr. Eduard David the former socialist leader in the reichstag originally selected as one of the six is replaced by Herr Langberg, the secretary for publicity, art and literature, as Dr. David is ill.

The body of experts will not proceed to Versailles for the present, it is stated.

The delegates, it is made known, expect to be given complete freedom of movement and unobstructed means of communication with their home government.

Remittance or Funds Allowed to Central Europe

NEW YORK, April 22.—The Federal Reserve board issued an order here today authorizing the remittance of funds to the countries of central Europe, excluding Germany, thru the American relief administration only. American food stocks held in Europe by the administration will be used as the medium of exchange.

Remittances can be deposited with bankers, express companies, steamship agencies or other dealers in European exchange. Food to the value of the remittance will be sold in the country of destination and the money in the currency of that country, will be transmitted thru a bank to the payee.

The countries affected are Poland, Serbia, Rumania, Finland, Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia, Germany, Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey. The American relief administration is the body created last February to administer the $100,000,000 voted by congress for European relief.

The order prohibits the purchase of exchange except from the relief administration.

The new scheme means the establishment of a link between hundreds of thousands of Central European nationals in this country and relatives with whom all communication was severed during the war. It will enable also the relief administration, greatly to extend the help it is bringing to starving millions in the war-ravaged countries.

Of these awarded 46 per cent had been executed. This was wholly different from the treatment of officers.

LIMERICK STRIKERS OUTWIT OFFICIALS

LIMERICK, April 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—The town of Limerick was set laughing today over the manner in which the strikers who Monday afternoon attended hurling contest across the river and in the evening refused permission to go home over the Sarsfield bridge, outwitted the military authorities and got home.

Marching from the Clare end of the bridge, they boarded a train for Limerick. When the station was reached four persons left the cars and tried to pass the soldiers. While the argument was proceeding the other passengers darted for doors and windows and scattered in every direction. The guard was unable to halt them.

ITALIANS ARE WEAKENING ON THEIR DEMANDS

Have a Compromise Offer to Make to Allied Chiefs.

PARIS, April 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—There are indications of weakening on the part of the Italian delegation and a disposition to withdraw their demands for the Dalmatian Hinterland if permitted to have the coast, the coastal water shed and Fiume.

President Wilson is inflexible in his position that Fiume shall not be annexed to Italy, thus bottling up Jugoslavia.

Although Premier Orlando probably will not attend the meetings of the council of four immediately, the inclination of the Italians to compromise is looked upon as encouraging by the allies, who apparently are hopeful that an agreement may be reached by mutual concessions.

The suggestion is widely circulated tonight in Paris that Great Britain and France cannot sign a peace treaty with Germany if Italy refuses because under the London agreement no member of the Entente is to sign a separate peace. The suggestion, however, apparently has not had any great effect on the negotiations.

As the United States is not a signatory of the London agreement even the most serious break in the conference would not prevent her from making a peace with Germany under a crisis which might arise. The American delegates refuse to give serious consideration to such an eventuality.

The ambitions and rivalries of various leaders are figuring largely in the present dead-lock. Economic conditions are so bad and food and coal are so scarce that a majority of the peace delegates feel that no important country will attempt to continue fighting under conditions of virtual isolation from the supply centers.

No Statement Made.

Although the Italian delegation made no official statement, a member told The Associated Press today that it considered it useless for the delegates to take part in future conferences unless the allies were willing to grant their requests. The Italians remain inflexible in their determination to be allotted all the territory granted them under the pact of London, with Fiume in addition.

The indignation of the delegation is as strong against the British and the French as against the Americans, and after the failure of Premier Orlando again today to appear at the meeting of the council of four the break between the Italians and the allies became well defined. Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George and President Wilson are busily considering the question of the future of Kiao-Chau with the Japanese delegation.

The American delegates declare emphatically that President Wilson is determined not to yield on the Fiume question. As America was not a party to the London treaty, the president refuses to discuss controversies arising from the secret treaty signed by Italy, France and Great Britain.

It was learned today that it was at the suggestion of the Italian delegation that President Wilson remained away from the meeting Monday morning when the London pact was discussed. This was extremely unsatisfactory as Italy insisted that the London treaty should not be affected by her subsequent agreement to President Wilson's fourteen points and demanded the literal fulfillment of promises made her.

The Italian delegates are not prepared to believe that the allies will approach them with a compromise. However, the French, British and American delegates show no signs of weakening and continue to advise the Italians of the meetings as if the Italian delegates had not booted.

ORDER DISTRIBUTION OF POSTAL LITERATURE SUSPENDED

New York, April 22.—Distribution of "postal telegraph," the house organ of the Postal Telegraph-Cable company, to employees through "regular channels" has been ordered suspended by Postmaster General Burleson, according to a statement issued tonight by William J. Deegan, secretary of the Mackay companies.

Mr. Deegan added that distribution to the public of literature "which in any way reflects on Burleson's control" also had been ordered suspended.

INTERNATIONAL SITUATION

(By The Associated Press.)

Tuesday witnessed no action on the part of the Italian peace conference delegates which would indicate that Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino had receded from their demand that the east coast of the Adriatic and its adjacent islands and the seaport of Fiume be given to Italy.

Nor was there visible any sign on the part of the British and French premiers and President Wilson of weakening in the stand they have taken that Italy's price is too high. Promises that are alleged to have been made to Italy by France and Great Britain in the London treaty are being held to inflexibly by the Italians. The Italians did not attend Tuesday's meeting of the council of four, which put aside entirely the Italian claims and discussed the question of the future of Kiao-Chau.

Apparently there is still much bitterness over the question. One of the Italian delegates told The Associated Press it was considered useless for the Italians to take further part in the conferences unless the allies were agreeable to granting Italy's request. One compromise suggested, but declined by the Italians, according to late reports provided for recognition of Italy's claim to Fiume in return for the abandonment of her ambitions to the Dalmatian coast.

Private conferences between Premier Orlando and members of the council of four are said to have taken place and a meeting with Mr. Lloyd George has been arranged to secure, if possible, an adjustment of the controversy.

Considerable fighting has taken place on the Russian front between Polish troops and the Bolsheviks. The Poles have captured Vilna and the important railway centers of Baranovichi and Novogrodek. It is reported that the Poles have broken through the Ukrainian front near Lemberg. The soviet government of Bela Kun in Hungary has been overthrown by the followers of Premier Hoffmann. Riot and pillage are said to be in progress in Budapest.

Fierce fighting is reported to have been resumed in Munich, where Warntgen troops have started an attack against the soviet forces.

Revolution in Turkey has been followed by the setting up of a soviet government, according to reports from Kiev, Russia, to Paris.

SIBERIAN ARMY ADVANCES 190 MILES

LONDON, April 22.—(British Wireless Service.)—The Siberian army of Admiral Kolchak's government, in making an advance of 190 miles in five weeks on the Ural front, achieved a success which endangers the entire Bolshevik position in eastern Russia. According to advices from Omsk the Siberians are now within 100 miles of the Volga, and the success on the river Kama in the center of the four hundred mile front, make untenable the Bolshevik positions east of the Volga. The Bolshevik troops opposed to the allies in north Russia and those facing General Denikhe in south Russia, are affected seriously by the advance.

The Bolsheviks had clung obstinately to Sarapul, southwest of Perm, and its capture together with much war material and a number of prospective leaders is looked upon as an important success. Both banks of the Kama river have been cleared of Bolsheviks for more than 200 miles.

DISCUSS ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION

Chicago, April 22.—Practicability of enforcing the national prohibition amendment by "concurrent power" of congress and the states was questioned today at a meeting of the distillers' committee, in charge of the distilling industry's fight against prohibition.

UTOPIAN DREAM IS NOW REALITY.

Had Col. Billings a few years ago suggested what could be done for society by building up and caring for those physically deficient the suggestion would have been thought Utopian—just a sort of dream project.

Now it is different, for this famous surgeon who did such excellent war time work has pointed out what was done in the military service for "rebuilding" men and correcting things that were physically wrong.

These statistics show what regularity of life, exercise and certain restraints will do, and Col. Billings' idea that these same principles may be applied to society in order to correct defects for economic and industrial purposes instead of military now strikes one forcefully.

The war brought its enormous losses—required its toll of tears and misery, but there is recurrent proof that it also taught many valuable lessons and blazed the way along trails of thought and endeavor that might never otherwise have been opened up.

SEEK TO FOSTER PARTY STRIFE.

Democratic papers are making much of the story that in a recent election at Kankakee that the candidates that Senator Curtis and Len Small backed were defeated. These same journals see in this fact a hopeful sign of strife among Republicans and they are seeking to foster these alleged differences and to make them appear as great as possible. That is part of the Democratic game and in fact is about the only possible avenue to success in a state way. So long as Republicans are in even general accord the Democratic party hasn't the slightest chance. With this in view it is good politics to muddy the water as much as possible and to magnify minor party differences.

SOME FRAUDS IN UNIFORM.

In these days when so much of honor is worthily bestowed upon the men in uniform of the U. S., it is too bad to find that there are some of these men who are not worthy of the uniform. In Chicago there have been so many instances of the uniform being used by fraudulent solicitors and for the promotion of fake schemes that an order has gone out which will result in a vigorous investigation about every man wearing a uniform who goes about selling goods to the public.

Of course it is only a very small percentage of men released from the service who are guilty of this conduct, but there are enough of them to call for vigorous investigation in the cities, and even in cities the size of Jacksonville there have been some cases that haven't had just the right "look."

KEEPING THE MARKET FIRM.

Reports show that the production of Illinois coal the past month has been 35 per cent of the possible capacity. Many of the mines have been shut down simply because there is no demand for coal. The time was when this condition brought a general slump in the market but seemingly during the war period the operators found that consumption does not depend upon the price and that whether they are getting high or low figures for coal, that practically the same amount is used by consumers. No matter how they learned the lesson, the coal market with the reduced production remains absolutely firm.

WOMEN'S PART.

Why shouldn't women have their full part in business and public affairs? At a meeting of the national women's chamber of commerce held recently figures were presented by one of the officers to show that women purchase two-thirds of all general merchandise offered. Evidently without women as customers business generally would go to smash. For that matter, without their influence civilization would take the same course.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Our Government.

Our old Government's respected by all people who are sane; here the worker is protected in whatever he may gain; and the fellow who is thrifty may neck deep in comfort wade, have possessions rich and dainty, and enjoy them undismayed. There's no country short of heaven with a government so slick that it has not fifty seven kinds of flaws for fools to lick. And there'll never be a nation with a government so great that it gets no condemnation from the pessimistic skate. Here the chap who's law abiding has no letters on his shank; in his jitney he goes riding, taking bundles to the bank. While he pays his yearly taxes he's secure in all he owns, and he needs no battle axes to protect his stack of bones. So I think the noisy rotters who don't like our kind of rule, should be shipped across the waters till their fevered spirits cool. In the olden times enchanted we could laugh at all their froth; in the old times they ranted, but they couldn't cut a swath. Now we know there's a deadly danger in the rotter's fierce harangue; therefore let us swat the stranger who talks treason to the gang.

TO TAKE MESSAGES FOR THE SOLDIERS

Capt. Owen Will Be One of Committee to Meet 33d Division—Will Greet Old Comrades.

Capt. L. P. Owen of the state auditor's office has been appointed by Gov. Lowden to serve on a committee to meet the 33d division of Illinois troops, when they return to New York next month. In a letter to Capt. Owen the governor said: "It gives me great pleasure to appoint you a member of that committee and to express my deep appreciation of your willingness to help make Illinois boys feel that their great services to their country are indeed gratefully appreciated."

Capt. Owen in a recent letter said it is hard for him to express his pleasure in being allowed to meet these returning soldiers, when he remembers that the old command which he organized and with which he served for more than six years is a part of the division. It will be Capt. Owen's duty to meet each boy from Morgan county and assure him as best he can of the high place he occupies in the hearts of the folks at home. In no way, as Capt. Owen has himself suggested, can he better do this than by delivering a personal letter or card or some small gift from a near friend of each individual soldier.

Capt. Owen will take personal pleasure and pride in attending to the delivery of such messages, and relatives and friends of Morgan county soldiers in the 33d division who wish to may communicate with him at the office of the state auditor. If a number of Jacksonville people feel like talking the matter over with him personally or wish to make any suggestion, Capt. Owen will very gladly come to Jacksonville to meet them.

RAIN MONDAY NIGHT

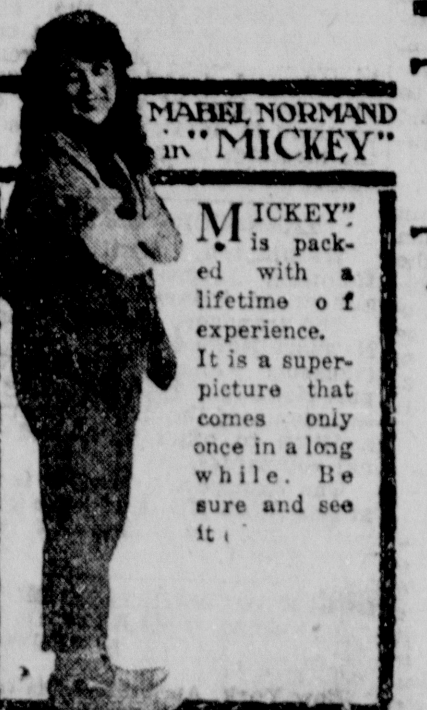

The latter part of Monday night a good shower fell and will be a great blessing to this part of the community. It is a matter of regret that the downpour was not over a greater district. In the vicinity of Litchberry and Alexander a rather light fall was reported while to the south the fall was heavier. In a northwesterly direction a pretty good shower fell.

DEMAND IS STRONG FOR LIBERTY NOTES

Concord Precinct With 250 Per Cent Has Set Pace for the County.

The pace set by Concord precinct in going 250 per cent of its quota in the first day of the Victory Loan campaign furnishes an example for all the rest of the county. The Concord committee doesn't expect to stop with this one day's record, for there are some residents of the precinct who have not yet been seen and who are known to be ready to subscribe.

B. A. Kratz is chairman for Concord and among the salesmen are George Dietrick, C. A. Fairchild, Alfred Brockhouse and O. T. Hamm. For one reason and another it has not been possible to receive reports from anywhere near all the precincts but the reports made to Albert C. Metcalf, director of sales, indicate the most satisfactory progress, especially in the rural precincts. While the loan campaign appeals to the patriotism and loyalty of Americans, who believe in "finishing the job," there is the strongest kind of appeal on a business basis. The loan terms are especially liberal and a 4% security, free from nearly all taxation is certainly an alluring investment. So it happens that men and women in the county with any surplus money, even if they do not feel the patriotic call, are finding in this loan a splendid investment opportunity.

Volunteer Subscriptions

While solicitors have been named all through the county it is hoped that many residents will not wait to be called upon by these salesmen but will go to their own bank and make subscription there. It is the plan for people to subscribe thru their own banks and even when purchases are made thru the salesmen the subscription will be credited to the bank where the customer does business. It is necessary for the local organization to make some report each day to the St. Louis office and it is hoped that the Morgan county campaign will move forward quickly so that the whole quota may be reported long before the time limit set for the campaign.

If you are not prepared to make present payment for your subscription you will find from consultation with the salesman that the deferred payment plan gives you ample time to make payments. Subscribe all you can and do it quickly, is the wish of the Liberty Loan committee. Buy these liberty loan notes as a "blue button" and wear your sleeve showing that you have a service chevron and that you are doing your part in helping your country meet its obligations, taken on during the war made for you and democracy.

AN ERROR CORRECTED

In the Journal yesterday a valuable article on "Law as a Profession" was printed. Through error it was not stated that this was an outline of the address recently delivered by Hon. Thomas Worthington before the students of Illinois college. At that time the address was heard with such interest and it contained matter of so much value that there were numerous requests for its publication.

LIEUT. KEATING HERE

ON FURLOUGH. Lieut. Robert Keating, U. S. N., is here on a furlough to spend a week with Mrs. Keating and relatives. Lieut. Keating is attached to the Warship Pennsylvania and for some months past has been at the training field near Cuba. During the war period he was in the transport service and so was in active touch with war events and knows from actual observation and experience something about the submarine menace. Navy life is not new to Lieut. Keating, as he is an Annapolis graduate and had made an excellent record before the war began.

The Days of Faith Have Come

What is the matter with Jacksonville? That's a question that has often been asked in past months and years, and the answer is "Nothing." It is a fact, tho, that in the past there has been something the matter with Jacksonville and that is something psychological. The real thing lacking for this city has been the faith of its citizens.

It has been far too customary for men and women resident here to declare that Jacksonville does well enough in its way but is not comparable with Springfield, Detroit, Bloomington, Quincy, Galesburg and some other Illinois cities of the same class generally. There hasn't been enough of local loyalty and patriotism.

A Jacksonville man said yesterday that he was a few months ago in a western city and had occasion to ask five or six different people about the population of the city. The answers ranged from 100,000 to 165,000. Somehow he doubted the figures so he looked up the census records and found that the government credited that city with a population of 49,000.

Now it isn't necessary to lie. It is doubtful if distorted facts are useful in a very permanent way, but the people in that western city and in most western cities do have the right idea of continually boosting their towns and they won't stand for adverse criticism or fault finding. In this same western city the Jacksonville man noticed a great many empty store rooms and houses and asked as to the reason. The answer was, "Well, business conditions haven't been just as prosperous as we would ask for the last two or three years, but better days are coming and it won't be long until there will be a demand for every house and building. Why, with a climate like we have around here you can't keep people away."

There is nothing much in this answer except the significant fact that there is no acknowledgement of discouragement and the firmly expressed belief that the future holds better things, and the willingness to champion the city on account of its climate in the lack of any other good argument. This same spirit of boosting is what Jacksonville has needed and it is a fine thing to be able to say that recent months have seemed to give more of that spirit than ever before. The marvelously prosperous conditions of the farming community the active demand for houses in Jacksonville, the number of new business enterprises started and doing well, the realization that the water question is near solution—all these things have combined to give Jacksonville people greater faith in their city and a willingness to talk about it as the best city on earth.

There is another factor in this matter of local patriotism, for soldiers have almost unanimously returned with a new appreciation of the city and county as they have compared it with other localities here and overseas. Jacksonville and Morgan county never before "looked so good" to these boys as at the present, and such unanimous verdict from several hundred war veterans means a big contribution to the patriotic fund.

Look about Jacksonville now, clad in the garments of springtime and unless you are blind to beauty you too will agree that it is the prettiest city that you know anything about. Then someone else said recently: "Drive to all parts of the city, in the hours of the early morning or in the evening time after men and women have returned from the work of the day, and you will find a city with a prosperous well-contented citizenship to a remarkable degree—a city which has few equals in this regard in the whole U. S."

The number of people here in poverty is comparatively small. The number wholly illiterate is small. Those who do not appreciate American ideals or understand American standards of living are still fewer in number. In fact, a great big majority of the people of this city live with comfortable surroundings, in happy homes. While all of them may not know it, the percentage of such homes here is far greater than in most American cities.

It is great to live in Jacksonville and it is a fine thing that her residents have come into the days of thankfulness for her present and days of faith for her future.

SAW MISS CAVELL JUST BEFORE EXECUTION

Minister Tells of Visiting British Nurse Who Was Executed By Germans in Belgium—Was Glad to Die for Her Country.

LONDON. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—"I expected my sentence, but I am glad to die for my country. In the sight of eternity, I know now it is not enough to love only your own country. You must love all, and not hate any."

Those were among the last words of Edith Cavell, the British nurse who was executed by the Germans in Belgium. The churchman to whom they were spoken, the Rev. H. S. T. Gahan, has just returned to England from Brussels, where with his wife he remained throughout the war.

Aid by a German Protestant military chaplain, Mr. Gahan received permission, he says, to see Miss Cavell in prison on the night before the death sentence was executed.

"With the chaplain" Mr. Gahan said, "I went to the cell door and it opened and Miss Cavell stood in the doorway. I had gone prepared for a very trying scene. There stood my friend—looking as calmly sweet as anyone could look. She was unchanged, except she appeared better for the enforced rest in prison. The warden withdrew and we were not interrupted."

"I remember practically all she said. She was thankful for the quiet time, as her life had been such a burden and rush in many respects. She was not sorry to go, for her life had contained so much trial that she was weary beyond endurance. They have treated me very kindly here," she said.

The little communion vessels were placed on the chair and after the service Mr. Gahan recited "Abide With Me." Miss Cavell joined under her breath.

"Then I felt," the minister continued, "that I must not stay much longer, for I had been there an hour. I stood up and said, 'Good-bye,' and we were face to face. She was looking slightly strained, but nothing more. We shook hands and smiled, and I added, 'We shall meet again Good-bye.'"

The great crime of hurrying the execution, according to Mr. Gahan, belonged to the military governor of Brussels, who would not wait to communicate with headquarters.

The Policy of The Standard Oil Company

(Indiana)

IT is the policy of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana to conduct its business in fairness to all: to the consumer, to the employee, to the stockholder and to the competitor.

To deal fairly with the consumer by manufacturing the best petroleum products, distributing them widely and selling them at lowest prices.

To deal fairly with the employee by giving him steady work, compensating him liberally, and as far as possible, insuring him against unemployment.

To deal fairly with the competitor by standing squarely on the broad, general principle of live and let live—by maintaining open prices and never deviating from them.

The Standard Oil Company knows that, by reason of its refining and distribution facilities, and the service it renders to customers, it has no need to disorganize the market to get its fair share of the business. That is all it expects and wants.

It is because of adherence to these general policies that the Company has prospered, and the Directors have been able to give a creditable accounting of their trusteeship to the 4623 stockholders who have their money invested in the Company.

A Certain Man

who had made a substantial fortune, died recently, leaving a will. He named two personal friends as Executors thereunder. One refused to qualify, pleading ill health and pressure of business. The other qualified, but died when he had mastered the details of his trust.

The estate suffered serious consequences because of delay in the appointment of new Executors. In the interim dissensions arose among heirs. No one could act with authority. Moneys due the estate could not be received and properly acknowledged. Funds could not be distributed, notwithstanding urgent needs of certain heirs. The confusion that resulted could not be detailed in this space.

Had the testator named a Trust Company as Executor matters would have gone smoothly. Friction would have been avoided and the desires expressed in the will would have been fully met. Our Trust Officer will gladly explain the advantages of naming this company as Executor under your will.

MARINES SUFFER HEAVY CASUALTIES

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Of the 8,000 officers and men composing the marine brigade when it and other units of the second division went into action near Chateau Thierry last July 5 to stop the German thrust at Paris, 126 officers and 5,073 men either were killed or wounded before the brigade was relieved.

In disclosing these casualties today, Major-General Barnett, commandant of the marine corps said published statements from army officers that the marines were not in the fighting at Chateau Thierry were misleading. The marines, he said, were not actually in the town itself, but fought in the Chateau Thierry sector.

Page, recently appointed to the United States court. The suit is due to the destruction of freight cars during the strike of 1894, when federal troops were called to guard property. Most of the witnesses are old men and many of those called at court opening were reported dead.

MAKE FOCH'S NOTE TO GERMANY PUBLIC

BERLIN, Monday, April 21.—(By the Associated Press).—The German government today made public the text of the note from General Nudant, the representative of Marshal Foch at Spa to Germany says that the allied and associated governments could not receive delegates who are authorized only to receive the text of the peace terms and also the German government's reply. The reply names the German delegates that have been selected to attend the Versailles congress and concludes: "The German government is ready to send the person indicated to Versailles, assurances being given that the delegates and those accompanying them during their stay there shall be guaranteed freedom of movement as well as free use of the telegraph and telephone for communication with the German government. The German government reserves the right subsequently to appoint special experts for separate peace questions."

UNIMPORTANT MELEE.

London, April 22.—The American army and navy court of inquiry into the fight between the American and other soldiers and the Metropolitan police March 9, last, interpreted the affair as an unimportant melee which did not affect the relations between the British authorities and the American fighting men.

QUIET PREVAILS IN GERMANY.

Berlin, Sunday, April 20.—(By the Associated Press).—The Easter holidays apparently brought to most of Germany what countless appeals to patriotism and warnings against strikes have failed to accomplish—comparative quiet and order. There were no reports of disturbances in any district except in Bavaria.

Clarence O'Connell Writes

Vitry, France.

March 16, 1919.

Dear Rother:

How are you? I am fine and hope this finds you the same. I received six letters this evening among them being one from Mama and the girls and one from you. I sure was glad to hear from all of you. I was sorry to hear of Will Gorman's death. Burns was sure surprised too. How are all of Uncle Mike's folks? I have not heard from any of them for some time. I received a letter from Tommie Mandeville the other day. I sure was glad to hear from him. Well Jim, you asked me if I was in a battle. Well, as luck would have it, I never did much fighting. When we left Co. I we joined Co. M in the trenches in the Lorraine sector. It was kind of quiet there, but still there was plenty of shooting going on. We were about 150 yards from the German trenches and we would keep shooting back and forth at one another. We lost some men but not many. Then we started up the Argonne forest. We hiked for about 15 days trying to catch up with the retreating Germans, so when we did catch up we were all wore out so we were not able to go on with the fighting, so we were in reserve for a few days and then the armistice was signed. But if it had lasted two days longer some of us would have been out of luck. So I consider myself lucky that I did not see any more of the fighting, but I saw enough shells fly to know what war was, and I often thought after doing a hard day's work at home that I was tired, but I didn't know that it was to be tired or nobody else does that wasn't over here. I have been more tired than I ever was at home and then would hike ten more long miles with my pack on so you know how I felt. Well Jim they sure must have had some time in Jacksonville at the celebration. When we heard it some of the boys began shooting their rifles, so they put me and some more of the boys on guard to stop the fuss, so I did not think much of the celebration, but was glad to know the armistice was signed.

Well Jim I sure would like to be back home wut when I can't don't think I am worrying because I don't have time. A fellow is never alone. We have a fellow by the name of Broadway in our company. If I was home I could tell you tales about him for a week. He would keep you laughing all the time. Well Jim don't look for me home for Easter. I will be thankful if I get home this fall and tell Tom hello for me and tell him to write to me, and George is also looking for a letter from him. Well this will be all for this time and hoping to hear from you soon again. I remain your brother,
Clarence F. O'Connell.

FROM OVERSEAS.

Camp Alexander, Newport News, Va., April 9, 1919.
Rev. J. H. Fisher of Bethel M. E. church received the following:
Dear Sir:
I being a very dear friend of your son, he requested of me to write you a letter to let you know where he is. He went to France as personal escort of Brigadier General Hutchison, he left this port the latter part of February. We are expecting him back sometime in July, he being an excellent musician we regret much to part with him, but however we will pray for his return as it is very hard to do without him, yet he has made an excellent record in this camp as the sharpshooting boy from Illinois. On post one night he shot one of his friends as he was running to get out of camp that is how he obtained his nickname.

Respectfully yours,
James Kenyon,

LINDAU COMMUNISTS ARE OVERTHROWN

Red Guards from Munich, coming to the assistance of the Lindau communists, were made prisoners.

It is reported that the Bavarian communist war minister, Reichardt, with his staff, was arrested by Bavarian government troops.

An Overburdened Mother

If the steps a mother takes and the work she does could only be measured by figures, what an array they would make. Thousands of such women, however, have found relief from suffering by taking Lydia E. SOME PERTINENT FACTS ABOUT OUR SCHOOLS

Brief Resume of Work accomplished During Superintendent's Term of H. A. Perrin.

As Mr. Perrin has been appointed for the fourth year it is but just that the public should be made acquainted with some of the things which have been accomplished during his incumbency of the office of superintendent.

A course of study has been constructed and arranged from the beginning through the grades and the full cooperation of teachers and superintendent has been secured and the course kept up to date and remodeled when needed.

A very wise arrangement has been the special aid given pupils in the grades at David Prince who have fallen behind through illness, removal or various causes.

Following the state law much attention has been paid to physical training, hygiene and constructive work following the plan devised by D. D. Keene of the Minneapolis schools. The teachers have heartily joined in this movement and great good has been accomplished. A supervised system of playground work has been devised and followed out.

A great work in the unification of the schools of the city has been brought about.

The great fire and the fearful epidemic caused grave conditions which have been met with unusual ability. To conduct the high school and David Prince schools under these adverse conditions has required an immense amount of skill, judgment, tact and administrative ability and a vast amount of hard work.

New School Building.

The planning of the proposed new high school building has entailed a great amount of labor in addition to the regular duties of superintendent and it has been done well. In this too he has been ably assisted by members of the board. Especially creditable is the instruction facilities for vocational training work which may cause a return from the federal government of a sum which may nearly equal the salary of the superintendent.

There is a general toning up in the character and work of the schools; an increased efficiency and discipline together with a better quality of work on the part of the pupils.

One great accomplishment is the plant of the open air school. All honor to the men who began that work poor as the quarters were. Great good was accomplished and the need of the department and its usefulness were well demonstrated and then came the desire for better quarters. Great praise is due those who undertook the work and carried it on from the beginning and now comes the credit due the superintendent for planning, in conjunction with the special committee from the board, the present plant which is a credit to the city and which has been investigated by other places and several have written asked particulars regarding it.

RUIN WROUGHT BY GERMANS IN FRANCE

Prof. Dubois After Study of Economic Situation in Northern France Expresses Fear Peace Conference Will Let Boches Off Too Easily—Makes Detailed Report of Findings.

Paris.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—"I am afraid the peace conference is going to let the Boches off too easily," said Professor Louis Dubois, deputy for the department of the Seine, to the Associated Press today. Professor Dubois has made a special study of the economic situation in northern France produced by the destructive ingenuity of the Germans. He has submitted to the chamber of Deputies a detailed report of his findings.

"Are the Germans to be spared?" he asked. "With their industries unimpaired they will have seized the markets long before we are ready to compete with them. If only President Wilson would come and see with his own eyes what utter ruin and destruction they have brought upon our unhappy land."

Destroyed Essential Things.

They even had a machine specially devised to destroy railway points. General Cassouin, who commands the northern section, told me that it will take two years before the railway system is in proper working order again.

"Transportation is interlocked with all the big difficulties we have to cope with. There is the question of raw materials and the question of labor. If, by demobilization, we get labor we must transport the men to places where they are needed. There we must house and feed them. There is neither food nor housing accommodation. To provide it, we again need transportation."

"We are asked why we cannot make fuller use of the canals but these canals served as lines of defense for the enemy. Their banks are battered, they are full of debris and need dredging. Many of the locks are destroyed."

Coal Pits Flooded.

"The pits of the coal mining district are flooded in places. One or two may be worked partly in six or eight months but it will be five or six years before the mines are in proper working condition again. Where are we to find the miners? The country around is razed and devastated to a degree of which people have not the faintest idea. There is not a house left standing in Lens. How are we to lodge and feed a mining population and how are we to regain our pre-war output of 20,000,000 tons of coal a year which even then did not cover our home needs?"

Asked if France was recovering any of the textile, metal manufacturing or sugar refining machinery stolen by the Germans, he replied that it was difficult to transport it and most of the French plants were not yet ready to receive it. "I know cases of Germans approaching the original owners of machinery and offering to sell them back their own property, they had stolen from them," he said.

"Then there is the agricultural question," he continued. "The arable soil in these parts is only ten inches deep. Beneath it is a sub-soil of barren chalk. The good soil that grows wheat—where is it? The farmers will have to begin right from the beginning again, as the squatters did in America; that is, they will have to prepare the soil for cultivation. Labor and transportation again? Not in fifteen or twenty years will that soil produce anything in the way of food grain."

CANADA SEEKS TO ATTRACT AMERICANS

Winnipeg, Man., April 22.—Federal immigration officials, working with provincial leaders, are trying to attract an American delegation to the prairie province this summer. The plans anticipate a delegation including representatives from every state in the union, members of congress and state officials. The delegation would be provided with a special train which would tour the west over one railway line and return over another.

Recent reports from Ottawa stated that the Dominion expected to spend at least $1,000,000 this year in attracting attention to the Western provinces.

WAS EASTER GUEST.

Mrs. Julia Mandeville of West College avenue had as an Easter guest her daughter, Sister Mary Thomas of the Dominican order, a teacher in the parochial schools at East St. Louis.

Funerals

Potter.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Potter were held from the Christian church in Winchester at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning in charge of the Rev. L. R. Cronkhite, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Evans.

Music was furnished by Mrs. C. H. Gibbs, Mrs. Fred Schofield, Miss Freda Schofield and Mrs. L. R. Cronkhite. The latter also gave a solo. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Dikis, Mrs. Mary Nuvall and Miss Emma Tuke.

Burial was in Winchester cemetery, the bearers being George Fligg, Samuel Angelo, L. M. Stillwell, Alex Ranson, Lee Ward and J. B. Shaw.

PAUL JOAQUIN LIKES NEW WORK.

Paul Joaquin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Joaquin, who went to Lansing, Mich., several months ago to a position in the Woolworth store there, is well pleased with his surroundings.

E. A. Hearn, formerly manager here, is in charge at Lansing and has placed young Joaquin in charge of the buying for five departments. In addition to his duties as floor manager and window trimmer. The opportunities for advancement are good with the Woolworth corporation and the young man will no doubt make good in a still more substantial way.

E. E. Crabtree for Loan Organization Sends Message to Local Committee.

At a recent session Jacksonville Council Knights of Columbus adopted a resolution pledging earnest support of the Victory loan, the duplicating of activities shown in previous loan campaigns. A copy of the resolution was sent to E. E. Crabtree, Illinois chairman Liberty loan organization. Yesterday Rev. W. T. Sloan, chairman of the committee received the following telegram of appreciation from Mr. Crabtree:

Rev. Wm. T. Sloan,

K. C. Victory Loan Committee, Jacksonville, Ill.

It is always heartening to a campaign manager in the early days of a loan to receive resolutions such as adopted by your body. It does not take long in war work to find out those who can always be depended upon. It did not take long to learn that the Knights of Columbus always quickly and heartily enter into the spirit of every war activity. I personally appreciate the loyalty and "pep" displayed by your organization towards campaigns with which I have been connected.

E. E. CRABTREE, State Chairman.

HATS OFF TO THE CRUSADER KNIGHTS

Five More Weeks of Tournament—Began February 9, Ends May 24—Jacksonville Has Splendid Record.

Jacksonville has every right to feel proud of her public school children. The report given below shows that a remarkable number of these children have attained the honor, title and pin of Health Knighthood. Show your pride in them. Mr. Citizen. Ask every child you know if he is a Crusader Knight. Then watch his eyes shine, as he exhibits his pin. His eyes will shine because he has worked for that silver-washed shield pin since February 9—worked faithfully for ten consecutive weeks. If he had failed to do at least 54 health chores in any one of those ten weeks, he would not have received this pin on last Monday, according to the rules of the National Tournament.

Those pupils who are Squires but did not receive this pin on last Monday still have the chance to earn one. The ten weeks of health work that measure up to the minimum requirement of 54 chores need only be completed. So those Squires may turn into Knights later on in the tournament. Those pupils, however, who were knighted last Monday, are now working toward the highest honor and title that the tournament offers—that of Knight Banneret, with the accompanying gold-washed pin.

One little third grader remarked, "Why, anybody would do those chores, 'cause they would want to get those pins! See?"

Further Honors Possible.

Yes, we do see! We see records that will bring national pennants to Jacksonville. If they hold good for another five weeks, or four and a half weeks, to be exact. Keep it up, Crusaders! Hold on to your 100% records. You who have them. Work hard for the nearest you can come to 100%, all of you. Do all the chores you can. If you do not win a national pennant, you may win a local one, based on the number of chores.

Three cheers for the Franklin school! Every one of its six rooms 100% Knights! Hurray for the Josephine Milligan school! 100% Knights! Bravo for the Independence school! 100% Knights! Congratulations to the second and sixth grades at the Jefferson school, to the third grade at the Washington school and to the first grade at the Morton school! All are 100% Knights!

During the past five weeks a number of children have been transferred from one grade to another, taking their health records with them. This makes the Knight percentage greater in some instances than the percentage of Squires, published five weeks ago. The Knight report follows:

Josephine Milligan school, Miss Hammond principal, 100%.

H. A. PERRIN AGAIN HEADS CITY SCHOOLS

Was Unanimously Chosen at Board Meeting Tuesday Evening—Finance Committee to Prepare Annual Budget.

The board of education met in special session last evening, heard the result of the recent election, chose Supt. Perrin to succeed himself, heard the president's appointment of committees and informally discussed the question of teachers' salaries and other matters.

The Proceedings.

The board met in called session with all members present except Member Black, President Lippincott in the chair.

The result of the recent election was announced formally, J. P. Lippincott, president; members Henry Muehlhausen, T. H. Rapp and Carl E. Black.

The first matter in order was the election of a superintendent for the ensuing year. On motion of Member Pierson, seconded by Member Rapp, Mr. Perrin was unanimously chosen to succeed himself. The result of the vote was communicated to Mr. Perrin who then entered the room. He said in brief:

"I sincerely thank the board for the compliment of my election, and fully appreciate the confidence you have manifested in me. I have tried to do my best for the schools and shall continue to give them my best efforts. I can only succeed with your support and cooperation and I shall use my best efforts to make them in the future as good as circumstances will possibly admit."

"Of course our ideal has not been attained but we have done our best and with your assistance we shall continue to strive for the best interests of the young people of Jacksonville."

Committees Named.

The president then announced the standing committees:

Finance—Rogerson, Black, and Rapp.

Teachers and salaries—Metcalfe, Pierson, Parker.

Buildings and grounds—Hopper, Muehlhausen, Duncan.

Superintendent Perrin said some matters must have attention.

He had received several letters from agencies and other sources showing that teachers are scarce and in view of the fact that living is now so expensive it is but right that we should do our best for those in the schools. It is also fair to the teachers to let them know just as soon as possible what they are to expect the coming year. The finance committee should prepare budget at the earliest possible moment and designate the salaries that the board will be able to pay the coming school year.

There was considerable informal discussion of the subject and the sentiment of the board was that the teachers should be dealt with fairly and as liberally as conditions would permit. There was general sentiment of alms and a desire to do the best possible in the matter of salaries inasmuch as the cost of living is so imminently increased.

State Law Suggested.

Supt. Perrin said he had been with a number of educators before the educational committee of the state legislature and the sentiment there was very strongly in favor of better pay for teachers. There was a bill making $800 a month the minimum salary that might be paid in the state. Our city pays more than some places and less than others and is about the average.

Some of the teachers in the grade schools get $77.50 a month but on the other hand they have to pay out something each vacation in the way of normal instruction. An increase in salaries would mean increased taxes but that is generally paid willingly. On the other hand there is a possibility of a larger amount from the state which will aid in the expenses of the schools. There is a great deal of interest in this matter in the state legislature and the outlook for higher salaries for teachers is promising.

The finance committee was instructed to prepare a budget to be presented at the next regular meeting when the question will have further consideration.

Adjourned.

Alfalfa in Morgan County.
Homer Steen, the assistant editor of The Prairie Farmer, during his recent visit to this county, was shown the alfalfa fields of L. A. Reed, A. M. Masters, H. E. Kinner and C. E. Drake. He expressed surprise at the success these men had attained in growing this crop. Several of these fields have been established five or six years and are still flourishing.

Soy Beans.
This crop will be well represented this season. In all probability we shall have from 1500 to 2000 acres planted this season by parties who have never before used soy beans. The popular method of planting here is with corn for hogging down. At present, some farmers could make good money by specializing in this crop for seed purposes, but no one seems disposed to try it out in Morgan county. For best results the seed must be inoculated. We have a supply of infected soil at the office which we furnish to the members for this purpose. In inoculating seed some use the glue method, others sugar and water and still others simply muddy water. We are advocating the last method this season.

U. S. Veterinarians.
No one line of farm bureau work has appealed to farmers more than the attempts to control animal diseases. The U. S. Veterinarians furnished this district have done valuable work in diagnosing contagious diseases of livestock. Our local veterinarians have co-operated nicely with the farm bureau and the U. S. Veterinarians in this matter. Some farmers, who were inclined to knock at the county organization, have loosened up their prejudices and taken out memberships when they saw what was going on. It sometimes takes a very definite object lesson and even a severe jar to get some to co-operate. Our U. S. men have helped to do this in controlling animal diseases.

Prentice.

The county agent spent Monday afternoon calling on some of the farmers around Prentice. For awhile we did not have any members there, but we do now. John W. Graft is chairman and there and we expect to hold meetings in that locality from time to time. It is very doubtful whether we have any better community in the county than that at Prentice.

LEADS IN PRODUCTION OF GRAIN PER CAPITA

Brookings, S. D., April 22.—Agriculturists of the state college of agriculture who have compared statistics assert that South Dakota leads the world in the production of grain per capita. State college statistics show that in 1918 South Dakota produced 428.8 bushels of grain per capita. Records of the next four leading states are given as: North Dakota 288.6; Iowa 286.4; Minnesota 160.4 and Kansas 109.5.

South Dakota was listed as fourth among the states in the production of wheat and of corn, but her comparatively small population gave her the palm from a per capita standpoint, according to the statisticians. The value of the state's farm products last year was at $600,000,000 or more than $800 per capita.

ENDOWMENT PLANNED.

The trustees of Ebenezer cemetery will present the question of raising an endowment fund for cemetery maintenance after the regular church services next Sunday morning. This is a matter in which every member of Ebenezer church is interested.

KANSAS CITY MARKETS

Kansas City Stock Yards, April 21st, 1919.—Prices for stockers and feeders are 25 to 50 cents lower than a week ago. The decline occurred late last week and the trade was fairly active today no addition was made to prices. Early last week beef cattle were lower but rallied later and today held firm. With the close of the Lenten season Easter Sunday, there are no holidays or fast days in sight to curtail the use of meat and in the period between Easter and June in former years there has been an advance in fed cattle. This year the prices of stock and feeding cattle will fluctuate with the beef cattle market more closely than in former years as short feeding will be the rule up to the time grass fat grades are available. Heavy feeders are bringing $14.00 to $16.25, and lighter weights $12.50 to $14.00. Prices for stockers show the widest range of the season. Some ordinary light weight steers are selling at $8.75 to $9.50, fair to medium grades $9.60 to $11.50, and choice grades up to $15.50. Receipts are large enough to afford a good selection. Trade in stock cows and heifers was erratic and prices were irregular. Good to choice young cows sold readily. Old cows and common heifers were lower. Good to choice stock cows and heifers are quoted at $8.50 to $9.50, plainer kinds $7.00 to $8.40. Stock calves are bringing $8.50 to $13.50. Large supplies of pigs and light weight hogs are moving to market, and there is a ready demand. Most of the 90 to 130 pound grades are selling at $18.00 to $19.60 and common pigs as low as $13.00. The movement of goats from the southwest has started and now is the best season of the year to get brushers. Last week close to 1000 shorn

Angoras weighing 78 pounds brought $9.50.

NUXATED IRON

Helps Make Strong, Sturdy Men and Beautiful, Healthy Women

3,000,000 People Use It Annually As a Tonic, Strength and Blood-builder

MAKE THIS TEST If you are weak or strong you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next, take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, undown people, who were ailing all the while, have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance in 2 weeks' time in many instances.

Mercantile's Nuxated Iron, which is prepared and recommended by physicians, is not merely a tonic but one which is well known to disengage the system. Unlike the other iron products it is easily assimilated and does not irritate the stomach. It is the only iron product that is guaranteed to be pure and of the highest quality. It is the only iron product that is guaranteed to be pure and of the highest quality. It is the only iron product that is guaranteed to be pure and of the highest quality.

TRANSFORMATION IN RUSSIAN CITY

City Described by Great Russian Novelist is not the Omsk of Today—Now Has Population of Half Million—Orthodox Cathedral is Dominating Structure of Capital.

Omsk, Siberia.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—American readers of the great Russian novelist, Dostoevsky, exiled for a political crime, spent four years at hard labor, in the fortress-prison of Omsk, would hardly recognize in the Omsk of today the terrible conditions which he depicted in his book, "Recollections of the House of the Dead." It was in 1849 that Dostoevsky began his term of exile and passed through the experiences which he so powerfully pictured later. The "house of the dead" no longer exists at Omsk. It has passed to give room for the building of a more modern and more hopeful city.

It is difficult to realize how the present half million population of Omsk lives. The normal population is one hundred thousand but the constant influx of refugees from the centers of Bolshevism has swelled the number of inhabitants. To find a house or apartment is not to be thought of in the present-day Omsk, chosen as the capital of the provisional All-Russian government. The most humble room is not to be obtained without the intervention of friends or the help of the authorities who do not hesitate to requisition rooms in case of urgent need. The city is without electricity except in a few sections and the streets at night are in obscurity. For that reason few persons go out after eight or nine o'clock because of the possible danger of robbery or worse. Public safety, has, however, greatly improved in the past two months.

Omsk in its main thoroughfare has many finely appointed office buildings and some modern apartment houses. The residential section consists of low-built houses of wood or mortar. There are several fine views due to the presence of many domed churches and the long expanses of space afforded by the rivers Irtysh and Om which meet in the very heart of the city. At forty below zero few women are seen in the streets but the advent of a day when the mercury rises nearer zero brings out a large number of ladies who look very attractive in their great coats of varied colors and their overshoes always prettily bordered with mink or hare. The Siberian hare's fur is utilized in the fashioning of warm and attractive hats with long streamers covering the ears and tying under the chin. Here are so plentiful that these hats are within the financial reach of almost everybody.

It is the orthodox cathedral, dedicated by the late Emperor Nicholas in 1891, which looms up, vast and imposing, as the dominating structure of the capital. On one side is the former residence of the civil governor of Omsk, now used by the foreign office, and on the opposite side of the square is the imposing ministry of justice, as yet uncompleted. The cathedral, which is called the Church of the Ascension of the Savior, is a vast edifice capable of holding 1,600 persons. During the Saturday night and Sunday morning services the brilliant and glittering auditorium is crowded with people, all standing in accordance with Russian custom. The cathedral has a great dome surrounded by several turrets and has on one side a tower of finely sculptured stone surmounted by a spire.

In 1714, Peter the First sent a commission to the Omsk region to erect a small fortress on the bank of the river Om, from which the city later took its name. In 1765, began the construction of a new and more solid fortress. It was in the form of a polygon with five bastions. Beside it was erected later the wooden prison, surrounded by a high palisade, which served to imprison Russian political exiles, and in which Dostoevsky spent his four years for having been in the Pougatchof riots. This was the "Dead House" which he later described to the world in protest of the horrors of Siberian banishment.

PROSPECTORS SEEK GOLD IN CASSIAR

Vancouver, B. C., April 17.—Prospectors are en route from Vancouver to unexplored portions of Cassiar where gold has been discovered, according to reports relayed from Indians and trappers in that wild region.

These reports have been forwarded to the Canadian Geological survey. The only formal attention the reports have received, is a statement that the survey considers transportation problems in the Cassiar region "almost unsurmountable."

Government officials have warned citizens against possible fraudulent activities by "blue sky" promoters.

Ettreick, Wis., April.—The residents of this little town of persons proud to stand by and watch the freight engine roll into view over their own miniature railroad.

After futile efforts had been made to have the Green Bay and Western railroad build a branch from Ettreick to Blir, the business men determined to build their own line. The ten mile railroad cost $200,000. A bond issue raised $175,000 and business men bought stock to make up the balance.

The little railroad which now furnishes an outlet for Ettreick's trade, was started while the war was in progress and labor scarce. The doctor, grocer, lawyer and butcher turned a hand to the task in spare hours and soon solved the labor problem.

Freight is now being routed to and from Ettreick.

PROHIBITION UPSETS FRENCH WINE TRADE

American Market for Wines Closed, French Exporters Seek Another Market—Lucien Fontaine Says It Will Be Found in Germany.

Paris, March 18.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—American prohibition upset France's wine trade. The American market for wines closed, the French exporters of champagnes and other wines will seek another market. This will be found in Germany, according to Lucien Fontaine of the Paris Chamber of Commerce. "If there is not sufficient market in Germany, we can go to Holland, Denmark, Austria and the Balkans," said M. Fontaine. "We can find the market for the suppressed American outlet in Europe, I think."

"The exportation of wine is not going to be such a hard problem to solve at this time for we have not been producing nearly so much wine during the war as we were before it."

"What are Americans to do?" asked M. Fontaine of the correspondent. "You know that all these soldiers will miss the French wine in America. Do you not think that Americans will notice the situation worse than the French? Perhaps all these soldiers had better stay here, eh?"

Prohibition of the importation into America of alcoholic beverages will deprive France of commerce which reached in 1914 more than $3,000,000. Before the war the business was valued annually at more than $2,000,000.
